

MADAME JERITZA WILL SING IN WOOLSEY HALL

Star Soprano of Metropolitan Opera Will Give Concert Tonight at 8:15.

HAS SCORED MANY TRIUMPHS

Famous Viennese Prima Donna Has Been Prominent Figure on Operatic Stage Since First Appearance in America—Violinist to Assist Singer.

Woolsey Hall will be the scene of one of the most important musical events of the New Haven season this evening at 8:15, when Mme. Maria Jeritza, the distinguished prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear in a concert to be given under the auspices of the Yale School of Music. Mme. Jeritza, who is one of the most conspicuous figures in the Metropolitan, has made an especial triumph this season as Princess Turandot, the heroine of Puccini's posthumous opera. Tonight Mme. Jeritza will be assisted by John Corigliano, violinist, while her accompanist on the piano will be Emil Polak.

Mme. Jeritza was born in Brunn, a small Austrian town, which since the war has been a part of Czechoslovakia. Showing ambition for a musical career at an early age, her vocal study began when she was sixteen years old under the direction of Professor Auspitzer. Her ability being soon recognized, the young soprano appeared at the Volkssoper in Vienna, where she sang such little known operas as Sibilia, Quo Vadis, and Kuhreigen.

It was not long before Mme. Jeritza, having been heard and admired by the Emperor Franz Josef, made her debut at the Court Opera in Vienna, singing in Oberleitner's opera, Aphrodite. Her success was immediate, and offers poured in from Berlin, Paris and London. But the Emperor would not permit his favorite singer to leave.

Finally, however, after the war was over, she was induced to come to New York, where she appeared for the first time in the 1921-22 season. Since then she has sung with tremendous success in Tosca, Jewels of the Madonna, Turandot, and other famous operas.

The program for tonight will be as follows:

1. (a) Romance from D Minor Concerto Kieniawski
- (b) Prelude Bach-Kreisler
- Mr. Corigliano
2. Aria: "Il est doux, il est bon." (He is kind, he is good.) from Herodias Massenet
- Mme. Jeritza
3. (a) Immer leiser wird mein Schlum- (Continued on Page Two)

ALUMNI FUND GAVE TO YALE $571,000 DURING LAST YEAR

9,311 Graduates Made Contributions to Fund, Which Since 1890 Has Added Over $4,000,000 to Yale.

Gifts amounting to over half a million dollars and total receipts of three-quarters of a million, testified to the Alumni's devotion to Yale during 1927, it was revealed in the thirty-seventh annual report of the Association, announced yesterday. 9,311 contributors, from among the 24,000 living graduates and to some extent from the 8,000 living non-graduates, have chosen this means during the past year to express a very practical loyalty to their University through the fund which was created for this purpose in 1890. The raising of this sum is especially noteworthy because of the $20,000,000 Endowment Fund campaign carried on also during the past year.

Until this endowment was originated, thirty-eight years ago, there was no feasible way for the great mass of alumni to give tangible evidence of their regard and love for their Alma Mater. With this in mind, and in response to resolutions of the New York graduates, the Corporation established the fund to answer "the widespread sentiment in favor of some systematic endeavor to increase the resources of the University." In the course of time, two divisions were evolved—the Principal and the Income Funds. The former, made of re-union year (Continued on Page Five)

PRESIDENT ANGELL URGES RESTRICTION

Yale Educator Points Out Duty of High Schools to Discourage Idlers Who Seek to Enter Universities.

Pleads for Closer and More Sympathetic Co-operation Between Secondary Institutions and Colleges.

Strategic reasons for a more careful and considerate restriction of college candidates were presented by President Angell, addressing the annual conference of the Department of Supervision, National Education Association, which has been in session at Boston during the week. Speaking before an audience which President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard, had thrown into heated dispute by his criticism of secondary school training on Monday, the Yale president expressed his conviction that the high schools themselves had a real duty in discouraging those students who have no serious aims in college from seeking admittance there.

That American colleges are facing a dangerous situation was carefully shown by President Angell. Vast armies of secondary school graduates crowd their gates in November, in numbers far greater than the colleges can accommodate. After discussing one solution of this problem—the enlargement of our educational system, with all its attendant difficulties—the president turned to a more applicable remedy, and expressed his conviction that the high schools should keep from entering the universities all those students who attend merely for the reputation they hope to acquire by being exposed to college during one year of listless effort. NEW HAVEN SWIMMING CLUB DEFEATED BY ELI YEARLINGS

Freshman Water Polo Team Overcomes Montclair A. C. by Score of 23-8—Loeser Is High Scorer.

In the meet between the Freshman Swimming Team and the New Haven Swimming Club the Blue yearlings added another victory to their successful season by a score of 34-28 in Carnegie Pool last night. After the meet the Freshman Water Polo Team defeated the Montclair A. C. by the one-sided score of 23 to 8.

B. C. Smith, who won the diving event was the outstanding contender for the Freshmen, while F. W. Loeser starred for the yearlings in the water polo. The closest and most interesting events of the evening were the 220-yard dash won by G. H. Langner, 1927S, and the 200-yard relay won also by the New Haven Club. Langner who was the most dangerous man on the visitors' team is Intercollegiate Champion in the 440-yard dash and winner of the William Lemeing Jeliff Prize.

The summary of the swimming meet is as follows:

50-yard dash—Won by W. M. Swoope, 1931; Foster, N. H. Club, second; R. L. Messimer, 1931. Time: 25.5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Won by G. H. Langner, March 9 and 10.

DARTMOUTH SWIMMERS WILL INVADE CARNEGIE

Strong Green Team Will Put Yale's Clean Record in Jeopardy Tonight.

WATER POLO GAME TO FOLLOW

Yale Water Polo Team, Victorious Over Princeton Last Week, Said to Be in Fine Condition After Week of Hard Work-outs.

Among the Yale athletic events to take place tomorrow night will be the swimming and water polo contests between Yale and Dartmouth. The Blue team which is undefeated in the East will face some of the fastest men of the East in certain events in the meet with Green aggregation in Carnegie pool at 8:15. After the swimming contests the Yale and Dartmouth Water Polo Teams will take the water in what is expected to be an easy Yale victory. The polo team has had several stiff workouts during the week in preparation for this game.

With the Dartmouth tankmen will be McCaw who was formerly National Interscholastic back stroke champion and is now one of the fastest men in that event in the East, and Captain Bryant, who has never been beaten in either the 50 or 100-yard dash. Captain J. A. House, Jr., 1928S, and McCaw are both from Cleveland and have competed against each other in that city. They will face each other in the 150-yard back stroke race tonight.

In Carnegie pool on Monday night starting at 8 the annual intramural swimming meet will be held. An elaborate program of serious and frivolous swimming has been arranged by Coach R. J. Kiphuth and the affair will be one of the most interesting of its kind ever held at Yale. One of the features of the meet will be a match medley relay race between swimmers of the Uni-

YALE BASKETBALL TEAM TO FACE CRIMSON FIVE

University Men Have Had Light Work-outs Since Dartmouth Game on Wednesday.

FRESHMAN TEAMS OPPOSED

Yearlings to Battle in Preliminary Event at 7—Close Contest Promised When Blue Quintet Engages Ancient Rival in Gymnasium Tonight.

In the Gymnasium tonight, at 8:15, the Blue team will meet the Harvard quintet in their annual basketball game. The Harvard-Yale Freshman tilt will precede the University game at 7. Yale is a slight favorite.

The comparative scores of the two teams indicate a decidedly close game, as both colleges have disposed of M. I. T. and Wesleyan by about the same margin. Yale may be conceded a slight advantage because of victories over Dartmouth and Brown, both of which teams defeated the Harvard quintet. Since those defeats, however, the Crimson team is said to have improved considerably, and, as it is the last game of the season for the visitors, it is expected that they will be at top form for the encounter tonight.

In defeating Dartmouth, the Elis gave brilliant exhibition. The individual performances of A. E. Nanry, 1930S, and L. E. Nassau, 1930, who scored respectively fourteen and eighteen points, were outstanding. As a result of this game Dartmouth was displaced from first place in the Intercollegiate League by Pennsylvania.

Coach Taylor gave his men a light work-out Thursday and a complete lay-off yes-

The daily chapel services next week, March 5 to 8, will be conducted by Professor Robert Seneca Smith of the Divinity School and by Rev. Elmore M. McKee, 1919, March 9 and 10.

The College Fraternity of Alpha Chi Rho announces the election from the Class of 1929 of Arthur Burniller Sullivan, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

VASSAR DRAMAT. WILL PERFORM

Undergraduates Will Give Play in Theatre on Experimental Stage—Tchekov's "Marriage Proposal" Is Title.

New Haven Vassar Alumnae Association Plans Entertainment for Visitors and Yale Guests Tonight.

Tchekov's The Marriage Proposal will be presented by the Vassar Experimental Theatre Association at the University Theatre this afternoon at 3. Attendance will be by invitation only. About forty Vassar undergraduates will be present to take part in the handling of the production. A dinner for the Vassar undergraduates on the trip together with an equal number of Yale men will be given at the home of Mrs. Herbert Wilcox of the Vassar Club in New Haven at 7:30. Following the dinner the Vassar Alumnae will give a dance at the Lawn Club for the girls on the trip and the invited guests from Yale.

The Marriage Proposal will be handled in a novel way. It will be given with three different casts in three different manners—realistically, expressionistically and constructivistically."

The play has been under the direction of a member of the faculty of Vassar, where there is a regular course in drama. During the last three days preliminary arrangements for the presentation of the play this afternoon have been made by Miss Barbara Bement of the Senior Class.

In the play are the Misses Barbara Bement, Lisel Boericke, Katherine Elkum, Katherine Ewing, Marjorie Grote, Elizabeth Johnson, Helen Sanford, Sarah Shiras and Ann Spock.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE TWO SYMPHONIES IN WOOLSEY

New Haven Organization, Led by Dean of Yale School of Music, Will Present Pieces by Mozart and Franck.

David Stanley Smith, 1900, Dean of the Yale School of Music, will conduct the New Haven Symphony Orchestra in Woolsey Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 when the fourth of a series of five programs given during the season will be presented. The concert will afford the audience the opportunity of hearing two symphonies in a single afternoon.

The program will consist of three compositions, as follows:

Mozart—Symphony in G minor
Debussy—The Afternoon of a Faun
Franck—Symphony in D minor

In its concerts in Woolsey Hall the orchestra has enjoyed marked success this season. It has always been closely connected with the University; the series of five presentations are sponsored by the School of Music, and several members of the orchestra are Yale undergraduates. Now in its thirty-fourth season, the organization has improved constantly.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased at Sprague Memorial Hall this morning until 12 and tomorrow at the Woolsey Hall Box Office after 1.

BLUE SKATERS TO OPPOSE HARVARD IN RETURN GAME

University Sextet Will Try to Even Series in the Boston Arena This Evening.

WEEK'S PRACTICE ENCOURAGING

Team Is at Full Strength for Crucial Match—Hurd Is in Condition to Play and Forward Line Has Been Showing Excellent Team Work.

In a game to be played in the Boston Arena this evening, the University Hockey Team will meet Harvard for the second time this season. The first contest of the series, which took place at the New Haven Arena last Saturday night, resulted in a 2-1 victory for the Crimson, and, if Yale wins tonight, a play-off will be held in the New Haven Arena next Wednesday. If, however, Harvard wins, it will carry off the intercollegiate championship of the East. Both the Crimson and the Blue have had outstanding teams this year, each having scored victories over the University Club of Boston, which in turn defeated the Toronto Graduates, the winners of the Olympic championship at St. Moritz in February. A capacity crowd is expected to witness the contest, as the Boston Arena is already completely sold out.

In the practices held this week, the Yale team has shown signs of steady improvement in every department of play. Especially good has been the work of the forward line, which has played together in perfect harmony. Another promising fact is the return to the team of R. M. Hurd, Jr., 1928. Hurd, who has been the regular goal guard all season, was injured in the game last Saturday, but has apparently made a complete recovery and will be in condition to play tonight. W. Sizer, 1930, who replaced Hurd in some of this week's practices, did some excellent work, and will be ready to relieve Hurd, if necessary.

Harvard's chief trouble tonight will probably come from W. H. Palmer, 1930, whom they will undoubtedly watch closely to prevent his breaking clear, as he has done repeatedly this year. The greatest strength of the powerful Crimson team lies in its defensive play, which proved an important factor in last Saturday's game.

The probable line-ups will be as follows:

YALE	HARVARD
Palmer, I.W.	L.W., Tudor
Curtis, R.W.	R.W., Giddens
Vaughan, Capt. C.	C., Chase Capt.
Ryan, I.D.	I.D., Howard
Cady, R.D.	R.D., Saltonstall
Hurd, G.	G., Morrill

YALE DEBATERS TO OPPOSE DARTMOUTH TEAM TONIGHT

Smith's Qualification for President Will Be Argued Also at Middletown With Wesleyan—Other Plans Announced.

On the subject "Resolved, That Alfred E. Smith is eminently qualified to be the next President of the United States" the Yale Affirmative Debating Team will oppose the Dartmouth Negative tonight in Lampson Lyceum at 8 while the University Negative Team will face Wesleyan at Middletown. This is the second series of the Intercollegiate Debating League, the last of which will be the Harvard-Princeton-Yale debate on March 24. The subject for this debate will be "Resolved, That this House favors the governmental policies of Mussolini." In Room 2, Lampson on Monday beginning at 7 trials will be held; in connection with work for this debate the Thatcher Prizes will be awarded.

So far this season the University Debating Team is undefeated. In the first series it was victorious over Amherst and Pennsylvania on the Chinese question and won from Bates in an informal debate. Further debates are scheduled with the University of Vermont and the University of Porto Rico after the Triangular Debate on March 24.

The Yale Negative Team, which will meet Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn., tonight will be composed of E. T. Williams, 1930, W. P. Leighton, 1929 and P. Hunt, 1930, alternate.

ENTHUSIASM AT HARVARD

The report of the deans of Harvard University on Thursday that the recently-introduced "reading period" has turned out to be a distinct success, is a rather significant mile-stone in American education. Predictions are hazardous at this immature date, but it is not heresy to suggest that its eventual effects will extend far beyond the fences of the Yard.

Harvard took a definite step last year when it amended its curriculum so that for two and a half weeks before the mid-year examinations there should be no assigned recitations, but that a general reading period should prevail under the occasional and more or less informal guidance of tutors. It was a revolutionary step, one that aroused nation-wide comment and prophecy, and for a while seemed to be fomenting almost as much furor as did that other British institution on the self-same banks of the Charles in 1776. But it was Harvard's path to a more elective, less restricted education, by the importation of the salutary liberty of the English theory.

So enthusiastic were the Harvard Faculties at the result of their experiment that they were led to state that "even if the grades had not shown any improvement, we could nevertheless regard it as a success." Strong language, from the proverbially musty sheets of a dean's office! They were not irrationally exuberant, however, for in their own words—"It is naturally too early to draw definite conclusions from this initial experience." Yet certain things are clearly seen. The fear that the students would imagine in the period an occasion for a "gloriously extended vacation" was happily not realized; and only a small proportion neglected their unenforced work. On the other hand, "the marks of the more capable students showed encouraging ascensions; the readings were not excessive; the examinations were wisely planned; and the majority profited by their independent efforts."

Each of these assertions, in the particular case of the Oxfordian system as adopted at Cambridge, is most strategic and goes far to prove the value of Harvard's creation. In a wider sense, it is highly pertinent to the situation of any university considering to broaden its curriculum, or thinking, perhaps tremulously, of allowing its members more liberties. The sum and total of the official report on the Harvard experiment should have a direct influence on all undergraduates who are seeking emancipation from the shackles of a long-lingering Scholasticism—"the upper-classmen have proved that they have the capacity and the interest to work independently, and they have profited by their experience."

COMMUNICATION

To the Chairman of the News

Dear Sir:

There has been some wonder expressed over the so-called new marking scale of 400. As a matter of fact this new scale is of course the one used for generations up to ten years ago, when the college was in the hands of the government and had to adopt the scale of 100 for the sake of one hundred per cent. uniformity. The mere fact that the 400 scale is an old one does not necessarily make it good. It is, however, sufficient answer to the rather captious criticism that Yale has tried to be new and different.

The real value of a 400 scale lies in the grading of men where very large numbers are involved. No one pretends for a moment that a single recitation or a single paper can be graded to the accuracy of a single point. It might be added that outside of Mathematics the same is true if the scale be 100. When it comes, however, to averaging up a large number of marks it is extraordinary how accurately grades range individuals in order. Many a man says frequently that marks mean nothing; usually a man who has so little in the way of marks has to make his statement true. But in the long run there is an uncanny accuracy in averages and so long as we try to rank our men in order the 400 scale is more convenient than the 100.

There is no real change in level. Two hundred represents a passing mark, not a job half done. It represents the passing mark in each course whether an instructor requires perfection to pass or mere mediocrity. The same is true of 60 or any other passing mark arbitrarily adopted. There was fear on the part of some when we went back to the 400 system that the high stand men would suffer because 375 seemed higher than 95. As a matter of fact in the Junior Class at present there are forty per cent. more men receiving 350 or higher than there were under the old system receiving 90 or higher six months ago.

There was not uniformity between departments before this change was made and there is no great inconvenience resulting from different systems in different schools. So far as the undergraduate is concerned there is certainly no cause for alarm to him. His work must be judged by the instructor who rates it and the scale of marking will neither save him nor injure him.

Sincerely yours,
C. W. Mendell.
Dean of the College.

CAMPUS NOTES

Great Grandmother to Become Heeler

Preceded by three of her children, who entered before her, a woman has come to the University of Arkansas to study journalism. 65 years old, a great grandmother, and with eight children of her own, she is fulfilling a life long desire to become a newspaper reporter.

This Higher Education

Apparently the only thing that remains to be settled is the provision of satisfactory grandstands. At least, the prizes are already $5,000 to be offered as stakes in an aeroplane race for college pilots, to be held in June. Each college will be allowed to enter one plane and three pilots. Colonel Lindbergh himself will sit—or fly—as one of the judges.

Northampton Magnetism

Of the letters written by Dartmouth undergraduates, Smith College draws more than any other two women's schools combined. To Northampton fifty-seven letters are addressed each day, while thirty-one find their way to Wellesley and Vassar receives but nineteen. Moral: Dartmouth enthusiasts go to Smith.

Harvard 1929 Entertains

Last evening the Harvard Juniors gave their annual Promenade entertaining nearly 250 couples. There were card dances until 12:30 and the same system of cutting in during encores as employed at the Yale Prom was put in practice.

Harvard 1931 Want Deciding Polo Game

According to a Boston paper, the Harvard Freshman Polo Team is keen for a third and deciding game with the Yale 1931 Team. Each of the two trios has received its only defeat of the season at the hands of the other having records of five games won and one lost. The first match was in Cambridge, where the Yale Freshmen played on Harvard ponies, and in an armory to whose size they were unaccustomed. But after what appeared to be a decisive victory for Harvard, the Crimson invaded the smaller Yale Armory and on Yale ponies were given just as severe a drubbing in return. Now both the Yale and Harvard 1931 riders are anxious to meet on equal terms, either in New Haven or Cambridge, riding their own ponies, to see which of these two fine Freshman teams is the superior.

REFERENDUM!!!

General apathy prevails. One does not give a blankety blank about the weather any more. The situation is alarming. Ignorance cannot be given as an excuse. Therefore it must be apathy that prevents the undergraduate from paying any attention to the weather. Something has gotta be done about this. We cannot let the weather go on the way it has been going on any more because of apathy. The weather bureau is fed up. The weather is all around us; we can't get away from it. Think of the University of Southern California and Leland-Stanford. They have nice weather out there. The undergraduates of those two joints pay more attention to it, so why shouldn't they? Here it is different. The weather is cheesy. What a disgusting sight it is to wake up in the morning and see a bunch of fog in your room! It is high time something was done. It has, therefore, been decided to refer the matter directly to the student body. It is earnestly hoped that some interest will be manifested by the voters. With good luck almost one-fifteenth of the student body should cast ballots, and at least seven-eighths should cast disparaging remarks, while the remainder will probably content themselves with casting for bass. Three possibilities are presented in the ballots which read as follows:

- 1.) March is coming in like a lion,
- 2.) March is coming in like a lamb, or
- 3.) March is coming in like a female cassowary (a large ratite bird related to the emu), with the resignation of the present weather bureau.

Ballots can be cast in P. Ring's basement, the gymnasium, or in the harbor.

The following poem was submitted by the celebrated infant prodigy and free verse artist Er Uh, who is also a Hindoo!

And gone; April
Having not yet arrived—
This must be

Some One Else Griped

A letter has been received from some unknown individual calling attention to the eel-pot-like qualities of the Arena. "Easy enough to get in", he says to me he says, "but try to get out!". Following his suggestion we wish here and now to start agitation for the construction of an arena with no doors at all. The spectators could be admitted by a rope ladder suspended from the roof, which could then be hoisted up. Just for a joke it might be nice to go away and leave the people in there for a few days. At any rate, in the words of the author, "the present facetious soul who refuses readmission to those who affect an exit during the games would be done out of a job!"

We wish to thank the author, who refuses to divulge his identity, for calling attention to one of our larger annoyances, and it is hoped by this department that he will find time to look into the squash-court situation.

Contributions Solicited

As has been stated, any and all attempts to tilt at this Windmill shall be hailed with salvos of twenty guns and a bomb. Contributions may take the shape of:

- a.) Poems, as:
- "Poems are made by clumps like me,"
- But only Luther Burbank could make a grapefruit by gosh!"
- (This is not a very good example of a poem.)
- b.) Jokes, as:
- "Who was that lady I seen you with etc.?"
- "Oh, so you did see me!"
- (This is not a very good example of a joke.)
- c.) Plays—sorry, not enough room for example. It wouldn't be any good anyway.

Contributions may be dropped in the News Office. Don't just drop them. They should be nailed to the Managing Editor's desk. Hammer is provided. If you can't think of anything to write about you will be a swell columnist.

ELIS TO FACE POWERFUL TIGER WRESTLING TEAM

Princeton Holds Slight Edge in Match to Be Staged in the Gym. at 3:30.

1931 ALSO MEETS PRINCETON

Eli Yearlings Have More Imposing Record, Losing Only One Match This Season in Five Starts—Whiting Has Been Most Consistent Performer.

In the sixth meet of the season, the Yale Wrestling Team will face Princeton in the Gymnasium this afternoon at 3:30. The Tiger team enters the contest a slight favorite on the basis of past performances this season. The Eli Freshmen grapplers will encounter the Princeton yearlings in a preliminary to the University match at 2. The 1931 team is given more than an even chance of defeating the Orange and Black.

An analysis of the records of the two first teams gives Princeton a slight edge. Lehigh downed Yale 18-11, but succeeded in conquering Princeton only 12-11. Also the visitors have won five of the six meets engaged in, whereas Yale has been defeated by the Navy, in addition to Lehigh. The Blue team has scored victories over Brown, the Army, and Alfred.

The outstanding match of the meet should be in the 158-pound class between Captain B. C. Miller, 1928, of the Eli team, and Graham, Princeton captain. Both men are leading contenders for the intercollegiate championship in their weight, Miller being the present champion and Graham runner-up.

In the Freshman match the Elis look to be the stronger. They have lost to Andover 16-10, and have defeated Brown, 18-13, Choate, 13-11, M. I. T., 25-8, and New Haven High, 18-8. The record of the Tigers wrestlers has not been so imposing; they have conquered Peddie and the Pennsylvania Freshmen, and have lost to Poly Prep and Gilman. The outstanding men on the visitors team are Captain Lowndes and Colmore. Yale's most consistent performer is J. W. M. Whiting, 1931, who has scored a fall in every meet this season.

President Angell Urges Restriction

then to drop out almost willingly. He decried this tendency for men to occupy places in the colleges when they have no serious intention of getting anything out of it, seeking instead mere athletic or social prestige.

"The whole political-educational conception under which we are working," he declared, "is too largely that a college or university education is open at little or no cost to anyone of moderate capacity and still more moderate powers of application. There is little or no sense of privilege about it and practically no sense of obligation. Merely to multiply the number of college-trained youths who go back into the community with no vivid feeling of duty to capitalize for the benefit of the commonwealth the training they have received is quite as likely to prove a curse as a blessing for the State. The public and the private institutions must work together to ameliorate this poisonous situation."

Nor is there any reason to believe that this influx will lessen. In the single decade of 1914-1924, the college registration tripled. At the same time, in the lower field of education, there exists a curious anomaly, for whereas the private colleges enroll about 65 per cent of the students, and leave only 25 per cent to public institutions, in secondary schools those publicly supported contain 93 per cent of our youthful

YALE POLO TEAM TO FACE
CRIMSON HORSEMEN TODAY

Junior University Riders Will Encounter
N. Y. A. C. at Yale—Yearlings to Meet Squadron A Armory Men.

All three of Yale's polo teams will be in action today. The University team will play its second game with Harvard in Cambridge at 8:30, while the Junior University will face the New York Athletic Club riders in the Yale Armory at 4. In New York the Freshman Team will oppose the Squadron A Armory at 8:30.

The Eli men are up against strong opposition in the meet with Harvard, as Harvard won the first game here by a score of 15 1-2 to 9 1-2 and are expected to be even stronger when playing in their own territory. The probable line-ups will be:

YALE HARVARD
O. M. Wallop, No. 1 No. 1, Cotton
R. M. Ferguson, No. 2 No. 2, White
Capt. F. C. Baldwin, Back Back, Captain Clark
Substitute: J. H. H. Phipps.

There have been no previous games with the N. Y. A. C. Team and consequently little can be prophesied of the Junior University game, but they will face a strong team whose handicap totals twelve on the national rating. The line-ups are as follows:

YALE N. Y. A. C.
C. P. Dodge, No. 1 No. 1, Gsell
H. C. Adams, No. 2 No. 2, Harrison
P. Folger, Back Back, Nelson

The Freshman game promises to be close inasmuch as the University team defeated Squadron A by a score of 15-6 and although the Freshman and University teams have never played each other, the Freshmen have defeated the Junior University which has frequently triumphed over the first string men.

The line-ups are announced as follows:
YALE 1931 SQUADRON A
R. W. McIlvaine, No. 1 No. 1, Whitehead
S. P. Porter, No. 2 No. 2, Graham
J. C. Rathbone, Back Back, Klausner
Substitute: C. R. McCormick.

EARLY APPLICATIONS FOR ART SCHOOL COURSES REQUESTED

Students in Yale College and the Sheffield Scientific School graduating in June and intending to enter the professional courses in the School of the Fine Arts are requested to make early application.

Men intending to enter the course in Architecture are asked to fill out application blanks before March 15.

The attention of students in the College and Scientific School is called to scholarships available in Architecture and in Painting. In Architecture there are two scholarships covering the first year's tuition which are awarded to those students in Yale College or the Sheffield Scientific School who apply and have the highest average scholarship rating in Architecture 10 and one other pre-professional course. In Painting or Sculpture there is awarded a scholarship covering the first year's tuition to that student in Yale College or the Sheffield Scientific School who applies and who is found to rank first by the average of his final grade in two of the following specified courses: Art 10 and Art 11; or Art 11 and Art 20; or Art 11 and Art 22. In special cases a student may offer Art 10 and Art 20.

Thirty Years Ago Today

The undergraduates suffered a strong editorial reproof which read as follows:

"It seems necessary to speak of the habitually indulged in by some men in the large lecture courses of climbing over the seats on leaving the room. A little reflection will suffice to show that this is not only unmanly but that it injures the desks if it does not actually destroy them."

The twenty-first annual banquet of the YALE DAILY NEWS was held at the New Haven House. In point of number and enthusiasm it was said to be the most successful gathering in the history of the newspaper. The feature of the evening was the singing of a quartet from the Glee Club. There were fifty guests present.

Owing to the nearness of the Intercollegiates all preliminary matches in the whist tournament had to be played at once, in case of delay, a default was to be registered.

In the finals of the annual handball tournament, Noyes defeated Sharpe 21-3, 21-11, 21-15.

All Freshman who were interested in forming a Freshman polo team were urged to report to the rink.

In commenting on the lack of manuscripts for the Lit. the NEWS editorial read:

"The amount of work submitted so far would seem to indicate either that the number of capable men is small or else that an election to the Lit. which has always been considered one of the highest honors in college, is not appreciated."

T. C. Pratt advertised tailor-made clothes for $21.

Three bottles of Arethusa Ginger Ale were to be purchased for twenty-five cents at Hurlburt's.

YALE PROFESSOR ELECTED TO BELGIAN ROYAL SOCIETY

Dr. Ernest W. Brown, Sterling Professor of Mathematics, Receives Award for Astronomical Investigation.

Dr. Ernest W. Brown, Sterling Professor of Mathematics, has been elected to membership in the Royal Academy of Science of Belgium in recognition of his eminent contributions in the fields of mathematics and astronomy. The Royal Academy of Science was founded in 1851 as an outgrowth of several older societies of Belgium.

The studies of Professor Brown have been recognized throughout the world. Several years ago he was presented with the gold medal of the Royal Society of England for notable investigation in astronomy. The J. C. Adams Prize of the University of Cambridge, England, and the Bruce Medal of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific have also been awarded to him for his astronomical work.

Professor Brown was born in Hull, England, and was graduated from Christ's College, Cambridge. He received an honorary Master of Arts degree from Yale in 1907. In addition to holding the Sterling Professorship of Mathematics, he has been serving as acting director of the Yale Observatory in the absence of Professor Schlesinger.

In the field of Scientific treatises Professor Brown's work has dealt mainly with the investigation of lunar phenomena. The theories he has expounded relative to this topic have proved very startling to the scientific world, one of his latest stating that the earth is subject to periodic expansion and contraction.

Professor Brown left for a two month's study at the Mount Wilson Observatory, Pasadena, California, last month, and will sail for England in May to continue his studies.

In Room 2, Lampson, Monday at 3:45, trials will be held for the Freshman debate with the Choate School at Wallingford Friday. All members of the Freshman Class are eligible to try out. A new team, other than that which debated against Taft, will be chosen by Professor J. C. Adams, '96. Each candidate will be required to speak for five minutes on the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, That Herbert Hoover is better qualified to be President than is Alfred E. Smith."

200-yard breast stroke—Yale: F. M. Rickman, 1928, F. E. Nyce, Jr., 1930. Dartmouth: Isham, Rogers.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB HEARS TALK BY MARIAN CUTHERBERT

Dean of Women at Talledega College Gives Discussion on Negro Racial Problem in Present Day America.

In the Trumbull Room of the Harkness Memorial Quadrangle the Cosmopolitan Club had as speaker last night Miss Marian Cuthbert, Dean of Women at Talledega College, Alabama. In this position of importance among the colored people of the South Miss Cuthbert is to be considered one of the leading woman exponents of Negro education. Her talk, based fundamentally on the Negro problem in America, was enthusiastically received and was made all the more interesting by a vein of pleasant humor which she maintained throughout.

Before the assemblage of Yale students of many races and numerous foreign countries Miss Cuthbert spoke frankly of the situation of the colored race in University undergraduate life and America as a whole. She said that even now the Negro is on the fringe of American civilization, not entirely segregated but still somewhat hesitant in fringe of American civilization, not entirely of the whites. The white race has derived many advantages from travel and social activities of every nature; and while it is gaining thus, 12,000,000 colored people live by the side of this civilization, only partially able to share in it.

America is now waking up to the fact that in this prejudice it is not only holding back the Negro, "who is not white only because he has not a white skin," but also the nation itself. Education is steadily being made more available to the black man, and yet there is no field as yet opened in which the Negro may use his culture and development. There is opportunity in his own race, but none of a general scope.

YALE SENDS THIRTY-FIVE TO INDOOR TRACK MEET

Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, Will Lead University Entrants in Intercollegiate Meet.

KEEN COMPETITION EXPECTED

Blue Team Among Those That Stand Good Chance of Defeating Harvard, Last Year's Champions—Individual Records May Fall in Meet Tonight.

Thirty-five members of the University track squad, headed by Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, will represent Yale at the I. C. A. A. Indoor Track and Field Championships in New York tonight. The meet will be held in the 102nd Regiment Armory on 168th Street and will begin promptly at 8. Competition is expected to prove exceedingly keen in all the events as Georgetown, Cornell, Princeton, and Penn. State are among the colleges sending strong teams to this meet. Harvard, however, has high hopes of successfully defending the title which it won last year.

Owing to the number of stars who will compete, especially in the hurdles and sprints, it has been found necessary to seed the entrants in these events. This move was made in order to prevent the elimination of possible finalists due to the presence of several stars in the same heat. Under this arrangement the men seeded in the hurdles include F. K. Sheldon, 1929S, and W. S. Edwards, 1928, together with Captain Wells of Dartmouth, Collier of Brown and McDonald of Holy Cross. The teams entered in the mile relay have also been seeded.

The individual star of the University entrants will of course, be Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, who is expected to have an easy time in setting a new meet record in the pole vault with the possible chance that he may break the world's record which he set last week at Madison Square Garden with a vault of 14 feet 1 inch. With F. H. Sturdy, 1929, also in this event, the Blue should score nine points easily.

Much of the attention of the meet will be centered on Cox of the Penn State team who will attempt to do what has never before been done in the history of the Intercollegiate Association—win the mile and two mile events in the same evening. Although Cox ran in both these events in the outdoor meet last fall, he was only successful in winning one of them. O'Neil and Reid of the Cambridge contingent, and Benson of Cornell, last year's winner should furnish plenty of opposition.

Yale has already suffered defeat at the hands of Holy Cross in a dual meet recently but is expected to make a much better showing tonight. The University team is entering men in every event.

The Yale entrants are as follows:

70-yard dash—Hunter, Kieselhorst and Walker; 70-yard high hurdles—Edwards, Game, King and Sheldon; 2 mile run—Igham, Jacob and W. F. Smith; mile run—Pardridge; 2-mile relay—Berger, Clayton, DeBuys and Pardridge; mile relay—Engle, Ferguson, Ross and S. W. Smith; Pole vault—Carr, Pond and Sturdy; High jump—Kaul, Larsen and Wolf; Broad jump—Brandenburg, Hampton, Oldt and Wright; 35-pound weight—Hall and Reiner; Shot put—Hall and O'Gorman; Freshman relay—Macdonald, Rianhard, Talcott and Tilson.

KENT HEADMASTER TO SPEAK AT SECOND LENTEN VESPERS

In Battell Chapel Sunday at 5:15 the second of the Lenten Vesper Series will be held and will be followed by a social hour in Dwight Hall, at which light refreshments are to be served. All members of the Student body are invited.

The speaker will be the Reverend Frederick H. Sill, O. H. C., Headmaster of the Kent School. Father Sill is one of the foremost educators in this country and at the same time is prominent in the Episcopal Church, having been a delegate for many years at the "National Convention of the Church." The service, which will be over by 6, will be preceded by an organ recital by Mr. Frank Bozian at 5.

YALE SENDS THIRTY-FIVE TO INDOOR TRACK MEET

Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, Will Lead University Entrants in Intercollegiate Meet.

KEEN COMPETITION EXPECTED

Blue Team Among Those That Stand Good Chance of Defeating Harvard, Last Year's Champions—Individual Records May Fall in Meet Tonight.

Thirty-five members of the University track squad, headed by Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, will represent Yale at the I. C. A. A. Indoor Track and Field Championships in New York tonight. The meet will be held in the 102nd Regiment Armory on 168th Street and will begin promptly at 8. Competition is expected to prove exceedingly keen in all the events as Georgetown, Cornell, Princeton, and Penn. State are among the colleges sending strong teams to this meet. Harvard, however, has high hopes of successfully defending the title which it won last year.

Owing to the number of stars who will compete, especially in the hurdles and sprints, it has been found necessary to seed the entrants in these events. This move was made in order to prevent the elimination of possible finalists due to the presence of several stars in the same heat. Under this arrangement the men seeded in the hurdles include F. K. Sheldon, 1929S, and W. S. Edwards, 1928, together with Captain Wells of Dartmouth, Collier of Brown and McDonald of Holy Cross. The teams entered in the mile relay have also been seeded.

The individual star of the University entrants will of course, be Captain S. W. Carr, 1928, who is expected to have an easy time in setting a new meet record in the pole vault with the possible chance that he may break the world's record which he set last week at Madison Square Garden with a vault of 14 feet 1 inch. With F. H. Sturdy, 1929, also in this event, the Blue should score nine points easily.

Much of the attention of the meet will be centered on Cox of the Penn State team who will attempt to do what has never before been done in the history of the Intercollegiate Association—win the mile and two mile events in the same evening. Although Cox ran in both these events in the outdoor meet last fall, he was only successful in winning one of them. O'Neil and Reid of the Cambridge contingent, and Benson of Cornell, last year's winner should furnish plenty of opposition.

Yale has already suffered defeat at the hands of Holy Cross in a dual meet recently but is expected to make a much better showing tonight. The University team is entering men in every event.

The Yale entrants are as follows:

70-yard dash—Hunter, Kieselhorst and Walker; 70-yard high hurdles—Edwards, Game, King and Sheldon; 2 mile run—Igham, Jacob and W. F. Smith; mile run—Pardridge; 2-mile relay—Berger, Clayton, DeBuys and Pardridge; mile relay—Engle, Ferguson, Ross and S. W. Smith; Pole vault—Carr, Pond and Sturdy; High jump—Kaul, Larsen and Wolf; Broad jump—Brandenburg, Hampton, Oldt and Wright; 35-pound weight—Hall and Reiner; Shot put—Hall and O'Gorman; Freshman relay—Macdonald, Rianhard, Talcott and Tilson.

The results of previous encounters tend to make the Freshmen the favorites in their game, as the Yearlings team which is considered to be unusually strong crushed Andover, by a score of 43-20, whereas the Harvard Freshmen only ran up a score of 30-18 against the same team.
