University Bulletin.

SATURDAY, November 10—Classical Club, Reading from the Annals of Tacitus, §§ 31-49, by Professor Peck, 4th story, Old Chapel. 7.30 p. m. Modern Language Club, Meeting commemorative of the 400th Anniversary of the birth of Hans Sachs; Papers by Professor Palmer, Professor Goodrich, of Williams College, and Mr. Klimpke. Room C, Osborn Hall, 8 p. m.

Modern Language Club.

A meeting of the Modern Language Club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, in Room C 1, Osborn Hall, in honor of the four hundredth anniversary of the birthday of the great German Meistersinger, Hans Sachs, who was born November 5, 1494. Prof. Goodrich of Williams, formerly of Yale, will read a paper on "Hans Sachs and the Reformation." Prof. Palmer and Mr. Klimpke will also read papers, the former on "Goethe and Hans Sachs," and the latter on "Hans Sachs, His Life and Works." A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all members of the University. The history of this club is probably unknown to a large number and a brief sketch of it may be of interest. The club was founded in October, 1891, with Prof. Knapp, now of Chicago University, as its president. The club was formed for the purpose of bringing together those who were interested in the study of modern languages and literatures and also for strengthening and developing this department in the University. At the meetings which are held on the second Saturday of each month, original papers on these subjects are presented by the members and discussed by them. The membership of the club is about sixty, and is open to members of the Faculty, graduate students and members of the Senior Class who show proficiency in their work. Prof. Luquien is now president of the club and Prof. Gruener, secretary. These two, with Prof. Lounsbury of the Scientific School, form the executive committee.

Sunday Services.

The usual morning service in Battell Chapel to-morrow will be conducted by Rev. Tennis S. Hamlin, D. D., of Washington. The subject for the class prayer meetings, which will be held immediately after church, will be: "The Great Commission;" Matt. xxviii: 18-20.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin will also address the general religious meeting of the University, in Dwight Hall, at 6.40 p. m. It being the Day of Prayer for young men, a collection will be taken at this service for the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Meetings for Day of Prayer.

To-morrow being the Day of Prayer for young men, special services will be held in a number of the city churches by invitation of the pastors. The work of the Young Men's Christian Association, especially the College department, will be presented. It will be noticed that the address at Dwight Hall does not conflict with the Berkeley sermon at Trinity Church, so that an opportunity is given of hearing both the Rev. Dr. Hamlin and the Rev. Dr. Parks, two well known and eloquent speakers.

The following is a list of the churches and speakers: 10:30 a. m., College Street Congregational Church (near Chapel street), John M. Dick, T. S., William S. Beard, '94. 7.30 p. m., United Church, Rev. T. S. Hamlin, D. D., of Washington; William Lyon Phelps, '87. 7.30 p. m., First Baptist Church (Wooster Place), William Sloane, '95; Anson P. Stokes, Jr., '96. 7.30 p. m., Trinity M. E. Church (Dwight Place, corner Crown street), Thomas F. Archbald, '96; Nathan A. Smyth, '97. All members of the University are invited to attend these services.

Phi Beta Kappa Meeting.

A meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Society was held last evening, at 7 o'clock, in 198 Old Chapel, with the president, Samuel Tyler, '95, in the chair. After some discussion as to the advisability of admitting members of the Sheffield Scientific School into the society, Professor Newton of the Scientific School was called upon to give his opinion on the subject. It was finally decided in the negative. It was also voted that members of the society should be assessed three dollars apiece to defray the running expenses during the coming year.

Yale vs. Lehigh.

The University football eleven left this morning at 9.35 for New York, where they will play Lehigh at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the Polo grounds. The line up will be as follows: Right end, L. Hinkey; right tackle, Murphy; right guard, Hickok; center, Stillman; left guard, McCrea; left tackle, Beard; left end, Hatch; quarter back, Adee; right half back, Mills; left half back, Jerrems; full back, Butterworth. Substitutes, H. P. Cross, Sturges, Rodgers, Bass, Fincke, Armstrong, Letton, Cochrane, Brown, and W. R. Cross.

Arrangement of Photographs in the Gymnasium.

The large photographs, which comprised the Yale University exhibit at the Chicago Exhibition in 1893, and at the Midwinter Fair in San Francisco during last winter, are about to be arranged in the gymnasium as follows: In the main entrance, twelve views of the old brick row and general views of the old campus; on the marble staircase and landings, general views of the newer buildings of the various departments; in Dr. Seaver's office, five collections of portraits of celebrated alumni of Yale scientists, literary men, college presidents, etc., and also a collection of views of the various society buildings; in Dr. Anderson's office, a few views of the athletic institutions, Gymnasium and Yale Field, the latter an instantaneous picture of the Yale-Harvard baseball game in June, 1892; in the room of the Athletic Association, photographs of the interiors of the laboratories of the Academic Department, (Kent, Sloane, Psychological), with mathematical apparatus, etc.; in the fencing room, views of the interior of the Peabody Museum; in the upper and lower corridors, photographs of typical recitation and lecture rooms of the University, of the arrangements of the Yale Infirmary and of a few typical students' rooms, one suite in Lyceum, and one in Durfee; in the Boxing Room, views of the laboratories and drawing rooms of the Scientific School and also of the various libraries of the University; in the General Dressing Room, the views, taken in the Yale Art School, of groups of statuary and collections of art objects.

The above arrangement is intended for the convenience of both the visitors and the students who make use of the Gymnasium. While the collection was complete when it was made, in the spring of 1893, the many new buildings which have been put up since then make it desirable that photographs of these should be added, so that the collection may present a complete picture of the plant of the University. In placing this valuable collection in the Gymnasium, the authorities believe that they have selected the best repository; the place where the pictures will be safely kept, and enjoyed by the largest number of people.

Princeton vs. Univ. of Pennsylvania.

The line-up of the teams which will represent Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania in the game at the Trenton Inter-state Fair Grounds, this afternoon, will be as follows:

PRINCETON.	POSITION.	U. OF PENN.
Smith	Left end	Gelbert
Lea	Left tackle	Wagenhurst
Wheeler	Left guard	Woodruff
Riggs	Center	Bull
Taylor	Right guard	Wharton
Holly	Right tackle	Minds
Trenchard (capt)	Right end	Upton
Poe	Quarter back	Williams
Morse	Left half	Knipe (capt)
Ward	Right half	Osgood
Cochran	Full back	Brooke

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

THE fact that the football game at the Field this afternoon, between the Yale and Columbia Freshmen, will be the last opportunity offered to '98 and '97 S. to see their team play in New Haven, should call out a large and demonstrative audience. Generous support from the class will show the players that their work is appreciated and will do more than anything else to win the approaching game with Harvard.

WHILE it is not our custom to pay any attention to the absurd stories about Yale which sometimes appear in the papers, one in Friday's New Haven Morning News and Morning Journal and Courier is too outrageous to let pass unnoticed. We refer to the publication of the statement that the captain of the baseball team called a University meeting to take action on the death of a prominent professional player. We do not know whether this article was meant maliciously or as a joke; in either case it is contemptibly mean. We wish to stamp it as an absolute falsehood and to express our belief that it is a disgrace to the papers in which it was printed.

WE are informed that the Cornell Athletic Council will soon meet to decide as to the advisability of sending a crew to England to take part in next season's Henley regatta. For years the question of an international race has come up for discussion here and at other universities, but without any definite action being taken. One great objection—the difference in time of the rowing season in England and America—will in this case be set aside as the regatta at Henley occurs in July. The shorter course will necessitate training with a view to obtaining greater speed; but fully as much endurance will be required, as two heats determine the winner. While the crews that compete at Henley are not representatives of any particular college, yet they are composed of former members of university eights and the honor of winning against them would be almost as great as against Cambridge or Oxford. Cornell now occupies an enviable position in rowing among American colleges, and it may be confidently predicted that if she decides to send over a crew it will be one of which all Americans can well be proud.

Freshman Union.

The regular meeting of the Freshman Union was held in C 2, Osborn Hall, at 7 o'clock last evening. The debate was on the subject: Resolved, "That the action of the Pullman Company in the recent strike was justifiable." O. M. Clark and P. H. Holme spoke on the affirmative, and A. P. Fitch, Jr., and E. D. Whittaker on the negative. The debate was decided in the affirmative.

The debate was won by the negative. The following new members were elected: R. H. B. Smith, '96; G. A. Smith, '96, and M. Gavin, '95. The question for debate for the next meeting will be: Resolved, "That in the case of labor troubles, and the like, arbitration by a national board should be made compulsory."
